

Junior Database Developer

Strategic Insight (SI), a provider of research, databases and analysis to over 250 of the largest mutual fund management and distribution companies around the world, is looking for an extremely capable, junior level, database developer in our New York City office.

In this fantastic career opportunity, you will play a key role working with our data operations team gathering information from over 500 financial institutions. Responsibilities will include: Streamlining data file conversion and loading processes, implementing and refining data quality and verification processes, maintaining, troubleshooting and supporting existing systems and, assisting in development of new data entry/data collection systems.

Detailed oriented, problem solving, initially many small projects

Skills/Experience

The ideal candidate will have a minimum of 1 year prior experience in a financial institution setting.

Strong Excel VBA, Macro experience

Intermediate level knowledge/experience one object oriented programming language C#, JAVA, etc

SQL queries, joins, sub-queries, grouping

1-3 Years database experience SQL Server, Access, VFP

.Net experience

This is a great opportunity to join a growing Company.

Please send resume AND SALARY REQUIREMENTS TO: sjautz@sionline.com.